Paris and Continental Correspondence.

PARIS, Feb. 9th, 1866.

To the Editors of the Raleigh Sentinel:

The speech of Napoleon III, on the opening of the French Chambers, was considered on ne peut plus conservative, but the Senators find that it is not conservative enough, and very like the members of Parliament of the time of Louis VIII, (whose government we sometimes regret,) who was considered to be more royalist than the King, now wish to out Herod Herod, and seem to say that the French still enjoy too much liberty. The Senators are like a parcel of old women brandishing their crutches, but they are as harmless as Falstaff. Were they not afraid of offending the Emperor, they would, I think, declare war with the U. S. They would also wish the temporal power of the Pope to be upheld; and find that the press enjoys too much liberty, a proof of which is that the law has been alleged to intervene and punish many editors and publishers for speaking too freely.

A FRAGMENT OF THE CORPS LEGISLATIF.

Disciplined by the violent Mons. Granier de Cassagnac, a member of the Corps Legislatif and editor of the Constitutionel, one of the organs of the government, affirms that the Emperor of the French is now giving way to the opposition members and that he should not give way to the menaces of the Filibusters of the Rio Grande. The language of the Senate will not find the slightest echo in the country, but the Senators of the Luxembourg will have an opportunity of showing off their devotedness to the present Government. I do not think there is the slightest intention of carrying things to extremities, and of declaring war with America.

There is moreover a growing antipathy to the government on the part of the electors in the departments. Ever since 1863 the elections have been more and more unfavorable to the present dynasty.

FINANCIAL QUESTION.

Business is generally bad, agriculture is in a very languishing state, and the manufacturing districts have not yet got over the shock occasioned by the treaty of Commerce. Mexican land holders are indignant that the Imperial government has left them in the lurch, for they affirm that it was only on the faith of the Mexican loan being guaranteed by the government, that they were induced to place their capital in it.

We look forward to very stormy debates—the press is more and more persecuted every day.

PRINCE NAPOLIAN IS OFF AGAIN.

His royal Higness is again on cool terms with his Imperial Cousin, and as Paris is anything but pleasant to him, when in disgrace at the Tuilleries, he has made up his mind to go to see what the Italian climate will do for his temper, which is none of the sweetest.—Prince Napoleon, is also much discouraged at being stoutly snubbed by the Emperor and his ministers. Before closing with France and foreign politics, I must tell you of a circumstance, which has caused some sensation in the French capital and given the gossips something to talk about this week, we may call it,

A SANGUINARY HOAX.

A report was current last week, that one of the conseillers of the Court of Cassation, having found out, that his better half, had been unfaithful to him at Fontainebleau, marched her off to the railway, as he was desirous of putting some leagues between her and her paramours. It was said that some alteration had taken place between the modern blue bird, during the journey to the capital and that he had strangled his wife. Those fond of the horrible were very much disappointed to find that part of the story was a fabrication: the lady having died a natural death at Lyons. This is how history is written. As a make up fool, this disappointment, the guillotine was again set at work at Versailles yesterday, when we had the

EXECUTION OF POUCET, THE CAYENNE CONVICT,

Who murdered his benefactor, Mr. Lavague. Poucet had lead a most dissolute life. He had been transported to Cayenne twice, for hideous crimes committed in France. He escaped from there and served some years in the Federal army; on his return to his native country, it was not long before he fell into the hands of justice, and yesterday expected his crime at Versailles. Whilst dreadful scenes were going on near Paris, there was dancing at the Tuilleries, where general admiration was caused by the

ELEGANT AND ORIGINAL FANCY DRESSES.

Of those who took part in the Imperial carnival ball, her Majesty the Empress, was dressed as Maria Antoinette, and looked as charming as ever. More than two-thirds of the guests wore the costume of the time of Louis XVI.—I am told that his Majesty was particularly gracious to the ambassadors from the leading powers, and that he never lost an opportunity of saying something amiable to the ladies.

The lovely and witty Princess of Metternich, was in the costume of Madame de Pompadour, and it is affirmed, that she had far more than two millions of francs worth of diamond wreaths scattered about her dress and coiffure.

A book which will be read with interest, and will shortly be published, is entitled

LE CRAVABL,

And gives a vivid and instructive account of the co-operative movement in Europe. I shall be able to give you, from time to time, extracts from this work, which will be one of the most remarkable of the year 1866.

The struggles of the artist are very great in a capital like Paris, where the prices of the first necessaries of life are so high, M—, a painter of talent, the other day, destroyed himself, as he had been unable to find purchasers for his works, his wife and children had been for some days deprived of every kind of food.

THE STATE OF PRUSSIA.

Herr von Bismark, the haughty and despotic Prussian premier, still continues to vex and pose on the deputies of the Chambers. Herr von Grabone, as you are aware, is now in bad odor with the King and his minister, for not being a good boy and allowing himself and his comrades to be knocked about any how. Wilhelm, the First, would, like Charles I. of England, wish to do away the parliament and govern as he pleases: he has, therefore, found out that the law can punish any deputy, for speaking out his mind too freely. Two deputies, Messrs. Tunsten and Trusel, have been presented for their speeches last year. Bismark, also, means to deprive the people from meeting in greater numbers than five at a time, so that the Prussians will soon be reduced to a state of perfect slavery.

O'DONNELL NOW KING OF SPAIN.

The Spanish Premier, now at rest, regards the result of the draugz prounciamento has lost no time in giving satisfaction to the friends of re-action. The state of seige is still maintained in the Capital, and other towns, tho' the rebellion is at an end, executions still take place,—the execution of Espinasor, has caused a feeling of deep regret, as O'Donnell in the hour of trouble, lead the Spanish people to believe, that he would show the greatest indulgence towards those who had taken a part in the prior movement—however the contrary turns out to be the case, he takes advantage of the war with Chili to draw off the people's attention. The Hildagos are in a dreadful fright at the Chilian privateers which are hovering about the Spanish main.

TWO HUNDRED BELGIAN SOLDIERS TAKEN PRISONERS.

I must tell you that there has been a great agitation with our neighbors, the Belgians, in consequence of the taking prisoners of 200 of their countrymen by the soldiers of Tuarez. These prisoners have protested energetically against the acts of the Imperial Government, which had several federal officers executed. They have further addressed the Belgian parliament. They wish to leave a service which has no longer any charms for them, and they want the Belgian Government to intervene in their favor. It was only yesterday that the documents, relative to this circumstance, were published. They have had a most unfavorable effect, and are calculated to complicate the Mexican question.

Her Majesty, the Queen of the Belgians, is to be confined in July next.

THE SPEECH OF THE QUEEN VICTORIA.

The British Queen opened parliament in person, the first time since the death of the late Prince Consort. The speech was as dull and ambiguous as usual, has produced an ill effect, Earl Russell, does not seem to relish the encouragement of franchise.

MR. BRIGHT AND THE LIBERAL PARTY

are very dissatisfied with the attitude of the premier, and what makes the situation worse, is the retirement of Sir. Charles Wood. The debates in the English Parliament relative to the murrian are rather stormy, and Lord Faverrham was nearly demanding that a charge of indictments be preterred against the minister of the home department.

I do not know if I am right in saying so but I think that Old England is on the eve of a great pacific revolution.

E. F. Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,

OR

BONE MANURE.

WARRANTED GENUINE.

BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise, and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquired.

We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufactured, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although furnished at half the price.

Messrs. R. H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:

"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E. F. Coe's Super Phosphate of Lime for four years.—It has given universal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, and the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.

"We would state that, after careful examination, we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing. "Very respectfully,

"R. H. ALLEN & CO.,

"No. 191 Water street, New York."

E. FRANK COE, ESQ.,

Annexed please find result of my analysis of sample of your Super Phosphate of Lime left with me. This being such a superior article in every respect, I cannot refrain from congratulating you upon such manufacture, which undoubtedly will meet with great success.

Wishing you every success, I am,

Respectfully yours,

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

COSMOPOLITE.

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the City of Baltimore, of a monthly

Literary Magazine,

There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York City, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country with no literary representative.

The COSMOPOLITE will be devoted to Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North and from London and Paris.

All matter not original will be carefully selected from the newest and best of the English, French and German publications; and its Editors will spare no effort or expense to make it rank with the VERY FIRST magazines of the country.

As its name imports, we have established the COSMOPOLITE upon no sectional basis. We hope to make it the organ of general literature alone; and will be unaffluenced by any party or clique whatever.

It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following

Subscription:

Single Copies, for one year,	$2 00
Five Copies for one year,	15 00
Ten copies for one year,	25 00

☞ The COSMOPOLITE will be generally distributed among the Merchants and Planters of the South and we will add, for their information, a few advertisements, at moderate rates

☞ Liberal deductions will be made to booksellers and newsdealers.

☞ Newspapers publishing this prospectus and sending a marked copy to the undersigned, will receive a copy of the magazine. Address

Negro Testimony---The People.

The defeat of this bill in the Senate on Friday night last, requires perhaps, a word for the consideration of the people.

It cannot be doubted, that at the late November elections, there was among the people of the State, an almost universal opposition to allow negroes the privilege of testifying in the Courts against white persons. The general practice of lying and the prevalance of demoralization among them—the strength of their prejudicies against white people in all matters of controversy—the ease with which they may be suborned and tempted to do the whites injustice—together with the unconquerable aversion among all classes of whites to admit them upon a platform of equality in any thing, led to this strong opposition. Nor is this feeling a mere prejudice of color. It grows out of long and thorough acquaintance with the black race, which knowledge is directly at war with all ideas of their early approach, to such a state of morals and civilization, as would safely admit them to the claim of equality.

The knowledge of this general opposition on the part of the people, and the pledges which the candidates for popular favor too often make, to the prejudice and interest of the State, may account for the positions taken by members who voted against the proposition to admit negro testimony, as well as a conviction on the part of some that the thing in itself was wrong and improper. We do not, therefore, attach blame to gentlemen who thus voted, nor is it our place to call in question their motives. We hold that pledges made to constituents, though often trameling and improper, are nevertheless sacred and should be performed, unless such a change in the sentiments of their constituents occurs, as will lead them to release the representative from his obligation. The error is in making the pledge.

Since the election, a change has passed upon many minds in the State favorable to negro testimony, but we are inclined to the opinion, that a large majority of our people are still opposed to it. The change, however, is going on, and we feel morally certain, that when our people have had time to consider the matter fully, there will be a general acquiescence. But changes upon a subject of this kind, are not made in a day, nor are they accelerated by heated discussion. We have, therefore, purposely abstained from its discussion, in order to prevent heated opposition, which we believed would be prejudicial to the success of the measure.

We will not conceal our regret at the vote on the bill on Friday night, and indeed throughout its progress through both Houses. Not that we regret that members followed their own convictions of duty. Certainly not. But we regret that the progress of public opinion in the State, has not been sufficiently indicated in its favor, to justify a unanimous vote in support of it.

Why do we desire this? First, we believe the thing to be right in itself. But we would by no means on this account, force it upon the people against their will. Secondly, the only reason which in our judgment would justify the General Assembly in forcing it upon the people at the present time, would be the conviction that President Johnson desires it—feels it to be necessary under the present circumstances—nay, that he will demand it of our people, if they do not of their own accord grant it, as a condition upon which the Freedmen's Bureau shall be removed.

This we think has been clearly shadowed forth in his policy, in his annual message—in his veto message—in his recent speech—in his conversations with Gov. Cox, and most fully indicated in the manner in which he has executed the law establishing the Bureau. He regards evidently the abolition of slavery as an incident of the war, and a necessity to restoration and quiet. He has plainly indicated, that the abolition of slavery has drawn along with it every measure necessary to the maintenance and permanency of their freedom, and all civil rights growing out of that relation. He executes the law authorizing the Freedmen's Bureau in such a way, as clearly to recognize the right of freedmen to testify in all matters in which they are concerned. This is a daily occurrence; but he does not desire the Bureau as a permanent thing; therefore he has intimated that just so soon as the laws of the States secure to the freedmen the same priviliges guaranteed by the Bureau—just so soon as he has evidence that the laws of the Southern States will give the freedmen what is just and equal, he will remove the Bureau and not before. The Military and Bureau officers in the State have indicated the same thing.

It is therefore perfectly plain, the Southern States must give to the freedmen all civil rights necessary to the maintenance of their freedom and the rights of life, liberty and property, or the military arm of the goverment will be held over us to secure them their rights until it is done. Those who are blind to this fact, must be wilfully blind. Hence, as we sustain the President's policy, we are in favor of the bill.

FAYETTEVILLE NEWS.—Mr. Myrover has withdrawn from the editoral chair of this paper. Capt. Robinson is the sole owner and editor.

"Our Neighbor."

Another column or two of Saturday's Standard, was devoted to our humble self. The article is a mixture of truth and error, such as we will expose and scatter to the winds, whenever a suitable time for such discussion arises.

As to the question of loyalty to the government, between ourself and the editor of that paper, or between the Sentinel and Standard, we are willing to submit to a Jury of any twelve unprejudiced men, at any time, with no fears as to the result.

But the interest of the State and of our people, are dearer to us, than any mastery we might obtain over our neighbor. We are anxious that the State should maintain her credit. We are anxious that she should give all the moral force possible to the policy of President Johnson, and we esteem the accomplishment of these ends of far more importance, than the gratification of either the editor of the Standard or ourself, in a petty, rancorous and ill-tempered warfare about the personal merits of either.

Why is it the Standard has been mum about sustaining the credit of the State? Why has it rather turned the cold shoulder, to the only reasonable proposition made to the Legislature to restore and preserve the credit of the State? Is it simply watching its chances to come out for repudiation? Is that the measure of its loyalty? Is that the way it supports President Johnson, when it knows that the President will enforce the payment of all constitutional debts?

Why is it, it stands aloof and does not even put its little finger to promote the passage of the Freedmen's Code, prepared by a commission appointed by the editor of the Standard, and endorsed by his best friends? Can Mr. Moore and Mr. Donnell and Mr. Mason, account for this manifest indifference, if not positive hostility to the Code, especially that part which insists upon negro testimony—the very backbone of the whole Code—the very proposition to amend which, so impressed Mr. Donnell with the inefficiency of the whole scheme, that he voted against it? Can the agents of the Freedmen's Bureau who deem the Standard to be par excellence the Union paper, and their friend, tell us why it is the Standard is so silent, so indifferent, nay so much opposed to this feature of the Freedmen's Code, that it never once opens its mouth in its favor; after General Ruger and Col. Whittlesey have both assured the public, that so soon as the Legislature does its duty to the freedmen, they will turn over all cases of freedmen to the jurisdiction of our Courts? Is the Standard afraid of the people, or has it ceased to be a friend of President Johnson? Where is its loyalty to the government—where its devotion to the President, when it thus bluffs a measure, in which it knows the President feels a deep interest? Is it preparing for the next campaign? Is the Standard not responsible for the defeat of the Freedmen's Code? Have not the outgivings of its editor on the street and in the lobbies, been directly against negro testimony? And is this supporting the President's policy? It can lecture Mr. Ferebee and Mr. McKoy and others about their positions, why not lecture some of the faithful who have deserted the President at this hour, in order to take care of Buncombe.

Ah! we recollect, the Standard a few days ago said, it could start issues in this State which would sweep it at the next election, if it chose to do so, but it would not. Let June come, and if and if,—we shall see.

Reconsidered.

We are pleased to state that the Freedmen's bill was reconsidered in the Senate and passed its second reading. We hope the bill on its final passage will be made entirely to correspond with the President's views. Our articles on that subject, were written before the bill was reconsidered.

The Freedmen's Bureau and the Slave Trade.

Under this head the Washington correspondent of the New York Herald writes:

Facts have come to light in the last day or two which show still greater reason than any which the President has given he has acted wisely in vetoing the Freedmen's bill. It is alleged that some of the agents of the present Bureau are engaged in buying and selling negroes; that while they are claiming that they have not the power to protect the freedmen in the South, this clause is only a dodge to get in their hands sufficient power to make the freed blacks slaves again, and to bind the Government to its enforcement. The mode of carrying on this new slave trade is as follows:

Certain professors and pretended phillanthropists from Massachusetts have been down to Mississippi and purchased plantations. They then send back here and offer a certain amount per head for negroes to work them. The agents of the Bureau send out men among the negroes, giving a fixed price per head for each and every freedman that is brought in; the plea used to the negroes is that the Freedmen's Bureau can now provide them with employment. Thus the negroes are collected, and the parties engaged at it get their price per head. The Freedmen's Bureau then take them and ship them off to Mississippi at the expense of the Government, and then turn them over to the Massachusetts professors, who place them at work under an overseer. A large number have already been picked up in this vicinity and sent off in this way. The trade is becoming quite profitable to the parties engaged. The President has already been compelled to protest against it to prevent this mode from becoming the regular and accepted system. This is nothing more nor less than a traffic in negroes, and it is said that some of the advocates for enlarged powers of the Bureau fear that the negroes will become restless when they come to see how they have been duped, and that it is, therefore, necessary that the authority of the agents shall be increased, to enable them to compel the blacks to remain in their new situations, and labor to enrich the Massachusetts professors.

The query rises here, if it is impossible for the present Bureau to protect the rights of the blacks in the Southern States, why are they picking them up and sending them into those States? Why take them away from this locality, where the negroes can be protected, and send them into Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia, where they declare they must have enlarged powers to protect them? This discrepancy between the preaching and deeds of these men is very suggestive to say the least.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

SENATE.

(EVENING SESSION.)

Feb. 2.

The Senate was called to order at 7½ o'clock.

A message was received from the House transmitting the following bill, viz: Bill to amend an act to incorporate the Greensboro' Female College, passed its second reading, and on motion of Mr. Bynum was referred to the Committee on Judiciary. Bill to establish free hold homesteads in the State, on motion of Mr. Wiggins was referred to Judiciary Committee. Bill to amend the charter of Governor's Creek Mining Company, referred to Committee on Corporations.

Leave of absence was granted to the Senator from Nash until Monday morning.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The bill concerning negroes, Indians, persons of color or mixed blood was resumed, the question arising on the adoption of the amendment offered by Mr. Ferebee to strike out the 3rd. section. The ayes and nays were called, and the amendment was not agreed to, by the following vote:

AYES—Messrs. Aycock, Bullock, Covington, Cowles, Cowper, Ferebee, Gorrell, Harris, of Franklin, Harris, of Rutherford, Jones, of Columbus, Jones, of Wake, Leitch, of Robeson, McCleese, McLean, Pitchford, Snead, Wiggins, Williams, Winstead.—19.

DAILY SENTINEL.

Monday, March 5, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

Messrs. Davis & Jones, it will be seen, have on hand an extra quantity of Texas cotton seed—also a lot of superb wagons.

Alex. Creech, Esq., has just returned from the North and is now opening a beautiful stock of Dress Goods. His goods are suited to the season and cheap.

Thomas Smith of Petersburg, Va., Wholesale Dealer in Dry Goods, &c., offers a splended assortment. Country merchants can do well with Mr. Smith. See advertisement.

A Printing establishment is offered by W. H. Bernard, of Wilmington.

Sale of Mules, &c., at Smithfield next Thursday, by Mr. Hamilton. See card.

Mr. Vassal, Special Agent for the Postoffice Department, has authorized the letting of the following routes, viz:

Fayetteville to Lumberton, Tri-weekly.
Fayetteville to Laurinburg, Semi-weekly.
Jonesboro' to Carthage and High Point, Semi-weekly.
Western Railroad, Fayetteville to Egypt.

GOLDSBORO NEWS.—We are obliged to our friend of the News for the compliment paid us. We hope to deserve it yet more and more, when times get better. We have been highly gratified at the encouraging success of the News. Its editor and publisher deserve more than they receive.

The Wilmington Dispatch says:

The members of the N. C. Legislature are having their photograps taken which they are exchanging with each other. We are glad they have found something to occupy their liesure time.

The last Goldsboro News contains an interesting letter from Rev. S. M. Frost, which says that he has done well for the Goldsboro Female College at the North, and hopes to open the College in April next.

For the Sentinel.

Immigration.

"Dieu est toujours a cote de gros bataillons." War is past. But peace in vain would resume her sway. There is a party, which like Palafox at Saragossa, still cries out "Guerre al cuchillo," "War to the knife." Gentlemen may say peace, peace, but there is no peace. The origin of the "irrepressible conflict" now raging is to be found long anterior to the late war. The war, terrible as it was, was but an episode, an eruption of Vesuvius which devastates all around, yet serves only to give a faint idea of the fires smouldering below. In the nature of all Governments there must ever be two parties in the State.—They take various disguises, but an analysis of their principles will always simplify them into the Progressive and Anti-Progressive—Radical and Conservative. The real issue, the real contest, of which the war was but an episode, and slavery but an incident, has been between the past and the future—between the spirit of conservatism and the fierce, active spirit of progression. Slavery as a prominent point, as an institution of the past, as an outwork of the cause which opposes progress, was fiercely assailed, and as fiercely defended. For a while the battle raged there. The position has been stormed and the Progressive party have gained a great advantage, but apart from this advantage the real issue is not touched.

The South by her customs, habits and peculiar institutions was eminently conservative. She threw her weight as an unit into the Anti-Progressive scale. Radicalism, however, found a genial soil in the North. The spirit of Progress has there pervaded the whole land and entered every department of life. Hence the conflict of the sections was as one of the ablest men of the day foretold, indeed "irrepressible." As in the civil war in England, the Cavaliers indulged in every license of dress and behavior in opposition to the simplicity of the Roundheads,—so the South assured the conservatism of a past age, in strong relief to the startling radicalism of the North. The energy and enterprise upon which we were dependent for the manufacture of our cotton, the production of our farming implements, the construction of our railroads, and to which we were indebted for the simplest comforts of life, was characterized as greed of gain and love of the "almighty dollar." Our indolence which was fast creating a Spain in the midst of Yankee go-aheadativeness, was an equability of temperament and an indifference to the lust of the yellow coin that Plato might have envied and even Cato might have admired. In short, it was the fight of the 18th, against the 19th century. As must ever eventually be the case, the Progressive party won.

The South must start anew. Some people seem to forget that the world turns round once in every twenty-four hours. What was considered as radical thirty years ago, is very moderate conservatism now. The South now has all the disadvantages of slavery, its narrow ideas, its educated prejudices, its sparse population and stagnation of energy and enterprise. Meanwhile it has none of its advantages of ease and comfort which that institution was wont to bestow. It behooves us, therefore, to take several steps to the front, and recognizing the fact that slavery is now at end, by the adoption of a liberal conservative policy, unite with us the large conservative wing of the Radicals, and assist the President in the formation of that National Union Party upon the success of which depends so much that effects the peace of this Union, and the triumph of this great experiment of free government. But, as I have said, we must take several steps to the front. There can be no union of sentiment between the ideas we have entertained and even the most moderate of the Progressive party. We are behind the times. The times can not come back to us, but we must move up into line with the spirit of the age.

There must be an entire revolution of our opinions in regard to the peculiar institution in all its relations. That institution has ceased to exist and we must recognize the fact. The Chinese exclusivism which was a part and parcel of that institution should perish with it. We should throw open our portals and invite the revivifying streams of population, energy, enterprise and industry to our borders. We must reanimate the sluggish body public by the introduction of new blood into its veins. In the decade between 1850 and 1860, the State of Illinois added to her population in number equal to the entire population of North Carolina. In ten years just doubling her population, while the representation of North Carolina in the Federal Congress in the same ten years, fell off from eight to seven in number. Can there be any real peace, any real community of feeling or interest between a State which is such an exponent of healthy living progress, such an embodiment of advancement, and that which is slowly decaying, languishing under stand-still principles—principles which like the vultures gnawing the vitals of Prometheus are tugging at her heart strings. I have instanced but one example. I have not the heart to do more, but look where you will in the States which are free from the policy which has enshrouded us, and you will find evidences of a prospeirty to which we are, and have been now for many years past, total strangers—towns building, population and and manufactures increasing, internal improvements developed, and the entire country "on the march" to achieve for itself a noble destiny.

How sad the contrast! We have a climate free from the rigors of the North and the sultriness of the South, a superior to which no country can boast. We have a soil rich in undreamt of wealth, water power for manufactures, harbors for shipping, navigable rivers, and mines that have yet to be explored. Yet our opportunities have been wilfully neglected. As a community we must acknowledge the truth that trembling mortals must all confess on the great day of all, "our opportunities have been unimproved." Nature has done much for us. Art little or nothing. We have everything at hand to make this a great country. We need but the living motive power to convert our advantages into use and that stands at our door. We have but to encourage, not to check, the small stream of immigration that has begun to pour in upon us, and the budding shoots of Spring will behold the budding of our prosperity. The showers of April will only foretoken the showers of wealth that will accompany the opening up of our long dormant commercial, manufacturing and agricultural advantagies. While slavery existed it was natural that a prejudice against immigration should be assidously inculcated. But that institution is now dead, and its prejudices should die with it. No one who considers the interests of the State will say that they are not languishing for want of population. Yet the prejudices of our people are still opposed to their interests.

The influx of population must come. To oppose it would be "to stem a stream with sand." Time will wear away opposition, and the most obdurate prejudices will be found little enough when interest like the sword of Brennus is thrown into the opposing scale. But it is now that we want population. Year after year has the South been losing ground. And taught by the lessons of the last four years, well do we know the value of numbers. In vain does courage avail when numbers lead the opposing ranks. In vain shall reason and right speak when numbers cast the ballots of the majority. The real battle of the Consititution is now to be fought.—The South as an unit will give her weight to the maintenance of conservative constitutional principles, as enunciated by President Johnson, but she should recollect that her influence will be just in proportion to the number of ballots she can cast. In vain shall courage and patriotism display itself on every field from the Chickahominy to the Susquehana, and finally bury itself beneath the burning ruins of the "City of Hills." The weight of numbers press all before it and victory succeeds victory to end in hopeless defeat. In vain shall the President speak out for the right, and in vain shall Washington, Jefferson, the Adams', Clay and Webster from their shrouded tombs, raise their voices in defense of the Constitution, when radicalism has chained defiant majorities to the car of innovation. Our only hope then, is to fill up our ranks and fight them. I mean politically, of course. Our only policy is to take up a more liberal position, considerably in advance of that we have occupied, and thus unite ourselves with that portion of the Northern people who are ready to rally around the Constitution and sustain the President. At the same time, as I have said, it behooves us to fill up our ranks and regain our place in the political scale, ere it be irretrievably lost. At the ballot box at least, we may receive without casuistry the saying of the great Frederick, which heads this article, and the truth of which we have experienced on another and a bloodier field, that "victory declares for heaviest battalions."

Another Freedmen's Bureau Bill.

The bill introduced into the House of Representatives, on Monday last, by Mr. Beaman, is so referred to by the New York Times as to lead us to suppose that it may receive the President's sanction. We therefore deem it of sufficient importance to give a synopsis of its features, which are these.

It authorizes supervision over all loyal refugees and freedmen, and all matters relating to them, to enable them as speedily as practicable to become self-supporting citizens of the United States, so that their freedom may be rendered available and beneficial to the Republic. It authorizes the appointment of two additional assistant commissioners, and a division of districts into sub-districts not exceeding the number of counties or parishes in the district. It allows details of military officers without increase of pay. If agents are taken from civil life, their salaries are confined within the limits of five hundred dollars and twelve hundred dollars per annuin. If found necessary, such commissioners may have three clerks each, and each agent one clerk each, at a salary not exceeding one thousand dollars per annum. And it shall be the duty of the commissioners, when it can be done conveniently with the public interests, to appoint as assistant commissioners, agents and clerks, such men as have proved their loyalty by fearful sacrifice in the armies of the Union during the rebellion. All employees are placed under military jurisdiction. It authorizes the Secretary of War to issue medical and other stores only to persons unable by proper industry themselves, and gives the President power under the homestead laws to assign to loyal refugees and freedmen, public lands not exceeding forty acres each, and not exceeding three million acres in all, in the States of Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Arkansas, subject to annual rental. It also confirms for three years the lands assigned by General Sherman's field order, with a provision for exchange with other lands in certain cases. It requires the co-operation of bureau officers with private benevolent associations, and their agents or teachers, in furnishing facilities for education of freedmen, and requires the furnishing of sites and building for school-houses. It secures to freedmen the enjoyment of all rights and immunities enjoyed by white persons under the common law, including the right to testify, hold property and bear arms, and accords them military protection until the State governments are restored, and the States represented in Congress. Persecutions of freedmen are punished by fine.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE WAR.—In the late civil war 220 battles were fought. In Virginia, 80; Tennessee, 37; Missouri, 35; Georgia, 12; South Carolina, 16; North Carolina, 11; Alabama, 7; Florida, 5; Kentucky, 14; the Indian Territory and New Mexico, one each. There were also 17 naval engagements.

MARRIED,

In the Presbyterian Church in this city, on Thursday evening last, by Rev. Mr. Atkinson, Maj. W. H. Bagley, of Perquimans, to Miss Addie A., daughter of Governor Worth.

In Louisburg, on the 20th Feb., by Rev. J. A. Cuninggim, Thomas Watson, of Warren, to Annie Brown, daughter of P. J. Brown, of Louisburg, N. C.

DIED:

In Beaufort, N. C., on the 16th instant, after a protracted illness, John W. Bell aged 35 years.

In the death of this estimable young man the community would offer its deepest sympathy to the aged mother who mourns the loss of her only child, with a grief a mother alone can feel. Friends lament with her their emotion his untimely departure, and would mingle their tears with hers in this hour of bereavement and sorrow. But while death has performed his sad mission, let the consoling hope that cheered his last hour, be a solace to all, that he has only passed from "death to life." The clouds that linger around the tomb, only hide the glories which abide in the horizon, but the "sun of righteousness" rises with "healing in his wings," to those who feel an inward assurance that a blessed future is reserved for the "pure in heart." He is gone—gone indeed from earthly scenes and the feverish phantoms we pursue in "pleasure's round," but gone to a happier sphere amid the angelic host, around the Great Throne where all is peace and love. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce, or which we think has ever yet been made by any body. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take, and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character, as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliabilities of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use, and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid inaction of the bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability. Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S and take no other. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., and sold by A CARD.

THE Philanthropic Society of the University of North Carolina is anxious to have a record of the names, and, as far as is possible, of the histories also, of its members who were slain in the recent war. They may be counted by hundreds, and their blood has stained the field of every battle from Manassas to Bentonsville. Of these brave and noble men, who freely offered their young lives for the cause of their country, there should be some enduring memorial. We owe it to them, and we owe it no less to ourselves, and to those who shall come after us. Their eminent patriotism should not be forgotten, nor should the worthiness of their example be lost to their successors.

The Society has thought that its archives are a most fit place of deposit for such memorials, where they are sure to meet with reverent care and are most likely to be long preserved, and to be of the highest service to our young men hereafter.

It has, therefore, directed this appeal to be made to the kindred and friends of those, its members, who perished in the late war, and to all who may be able to render such service, that they would send to the Society such memorials as may be had of their lives and of their death. It desires to form a complete catalogue of those whom it has lost, with biographical sketches, at full as may be, of them all; or, in default of such sketches, accounts of separate acts of virtue and daring.

Besides such memoranda, it will gladly receive any personal memorials of its deceased members, their autographs, accoutrements they wore, &c., &c. All will be duly arranged here, and carefully preserved in honor of the dead and to the use of the living for many generations; and it is believed that no where else will the memory of our departed brethren be cherished longer, or with more peculiar veneration. And now, that the late war is over; now that the last four years of bloodshed, destitution and distress have passed; now that we have resumed our former connection with the Federal government in true faith and with honest intentions, the incidents and acts connected with the war's history, are fast being effaced from the hearts and memory of the people for whom they were performed. The Society, believing that in a country whose every law breathes independence and equality, acts of worth should be perpetuated, views this fact with the deepest concern: it has, therefore, appointed its Library to be a receptacle for trophies commematory of the war, and requests contributions from her friends throughout the State. It should be a source of congratulation to the authors that their illustrious actions are not forgotten, and of pride to the country, that she is worthy of them; and equally the duty of both that they be fitly honored.

All communications made, and articles sent, should be directed to "Philanthropic Society, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill," with the name of the donor, and an appropriate description accompanying each article. All expenses connected with the sending of such articles, will be defrayed by the Society.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assets of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $5000, or $10,000 or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, also of the privileges of want, and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15, 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,683,339.57; total disbursements $527,805.24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $9,155 24 92.

In Raleigh a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $7000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

BAUGH'S RAW BONE

Super-Phosphate of Lime.

BAUGH & SON'S,
MANUFACTURERS AND PROPRIETORS,
Store No. 20 South Delaware Avenue,
PHILADELPHIA.

THIS valuable Manure has been before the agricultural public, under one name for twelve years past, and its character for vigor of action and permanence in effect is well established. Before the war, it was introduced, to some extent, in the Southern States, and was found to be highly adapted to Cotton, Tobacco, and all Crops.

In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

COPARTNERSHIP.

NEWBERN, N. C., November 1st, 1865.

WE HAVE THIS DAY FORMED A COPARTnership under the name and style of

Whitford, Dill & Co.,

for the transaction of a Shipping and General Commission Business, in this Town, West side Craven Street, on old County Wharf.

Also the sale of Cotton, Naval Stores, Tobacco, Lumber, Staves, Shingles, Corn, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of Real Estate and State and other Stocks, we will give our personal attention.

We are Agents for Murry's North Carolina Semi Weekly Line of Steamships, between Newbern and New York, and for Sailing Vessels for Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other ports in the United States and for different ports in the West Indies. Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to these, there is a weekly line of Ocean Steamships on the same route, and a tri-weekly line of Steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

☞ We will make liberal advances on consignments.

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight, or on any other business, will be promptly answered.

PROSPECTUS
OF THE
OLD NORTH STATE.
"The Old North State Forever."

THE undersigned will commence the publication of a Daily and Weekly Newspaper, bearing the above title, in the city of Salisbury about the 15th of March next.

The Old North State will be, under our control, a firm and decided Union paper. But while it will be firm and decided in its support of the Union, and of all just and necessary measures tending to its complete restoration, it will yet be liberal and conservative. It will oppose radicalism from whatever quarter it may come. Confiding in the loyal intentions of the great body of the people of North Carolina, it will endeavor to soothe the asperities of the past by promoting among them a spirit of reconciliation and harmony.

Rejecting the exploded dogma of paramount State sovereignty, it will cheerfully support the National government in the exercise of every power necessary to the maintenance of its rightful authority, while it will ever contend against any encroachments upon the reserved rights of the States.

It will discuss all the various political issues of the day, but in doing this it will seek to avoid everything like partizan bitterness or personal vituperation. It will also strive to avoid that detestable practice, so common among politicians, of pandering to the passions and appealing to the prejudices of the multitude in order to accomplish partizan ends. It will endeavor to enlighten and direct aright public sentiment, by disseminating correct information, and by arguments addressed to the understanding—in short it will endeavor to erect a high standard of political morality.

Its columns will be open for Political, Moral, Literary and Agricultural articles especially, and to the advertising public.

The Old North State will be printed on new type on the following

THE LOYALIST.

THE undersigned proposes to publish in Louisburg, North Carolina a newspaper under the above denomination, The LOYALIST, as its name imports, will yield a firm, uniform, and fearless support to the Constitution of the United States, and all laws enacted in pursuance of that great instrument. To the decisions of the Supreme Court of the nation, in such questions as originate in the interpretation or application of the principles involved in our federal jurisprudence or policy, the Loyalist will accord its unqualified acquiescence, as to the will of the American people, duly expressed through the only legitimate, determinate and sufficient medium. Its general politics will be those so long and so thoroughly taught by the patriotism, the eloquence, and the wisdom of Clay, and his departed compeers, and so fearfully vindicated by the present melancholy and hopeless condition of the communities so recently arrayed in arms against the integrity and harmony of our national union.

The Loyalist would make the institutions and independence, the material and moral dignity of the nation, as enduring and as brilliant as the stars whose images adorn the field and the folds of its flag. The Loyalist will also dedicate its energies and exert its abilities to ascertain and cherish the interests, as well as to develope the immense resources of North Carolina. To the cause of education, the general diffusion of knowledge, the elevation of the masses, and the religious culture of all within its influence it will be a consistent and inflexible friend. Its editorial department will be conducted by gentlemen whose names will be announced in due time.

The LOYALIST will be issued weekly, carefully printed, of the size of the Raleigh "Daily Sentinel," and furnished to patrons at $3.00 per annum, payable on delivery of the first number. Subscriptions and communications respectfully solicited.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

OUR most momentous, arduous struggle having resulted in the triumph of American Nationality, the utter discomfiture and overthrow of Secession and slavery, The Tribune, profoundly rejoicing in this result, will labor to conserve the legitimate fruits of this grand, benignant victory by rendering Liberty and Opportunity the common heritage of the whole American People now and evermore.

Discountenancing all unmanly exultation over, or needless infliction of pain or privation on the upholders of the lost cause, it will insist on the earliest possible restoration of the Southern States to their former power and influence in our Union, on the basis of All Rights for All their People.

It will labor in hope to prove that the substitution of Free for Slave Labor must inevitably and universally conduce to the increase of Industry, Thrift, Prosperity and Wealth; so that the South within the next ten years, must look back amazed on her long persistence in a practice so baleful as the chattelizing of Man.

It will labor for the diffusion of Common School Education, Manufactures, the Useful Arts, &c., &c., throughout the sections hitherto devoid of them, believing that every good end will thereby be subserved and the interest of every useful and worthy class promoted.

It will urge the Protection of Home Industry by discriminating duties on Foreign Products imported with a view to drawing hither the most capable and skilful artisans of Europe, and the naturalizing on our soil of many branches of production hitherto all but confined to the Old World, while it would strengthen and extend those which have already a foothold among us.

It will give careful attention to progress and improvement in Agriculture, doing its best at once to bring market to the doors of our farmers, and teach them how to make the most of the opportunities thus afforded them.

It will devote constant attention to Markets especially for Agricultural Products, with intent to save both producer and consumer from being victimized by the speculator and forestaller.

And, giving fair scope to Current Literature, to the proceedings of Congress, and to the general News of the Day, it hopes to retain its old patrons, and attract many new to bear them company.

We rarely employ traveling agents, as so many imposters are habitually prowling in the assumed capacity of solicitors for journals. We prefer that our subscribers shall pay their money to persons they know, and of whose integrity they are assured. Any friend who believes he will do good by increasing the circulation of The Tribune, is authorized to solicit and receive subscriptions. Specimen copies will be promptly sent without charge to those requiring them, and we trust many friends will be moved to ask their neighbors and acquaintances to join in making up their clubs.

The Great Family Newspaper.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE.

THE

New-York Weekly Tribune

is printed on a large double medium sheet, making eight pages of six columns each. It contains the important Editorials published in The Daily Tribune, except those of merely local interest; also Literary and Scientific Intelligence; Reviews of the most interesting and important new Books; the Letters from our large corps of correspondents; the latest news received by Telegraph from Washington and all other parts of the country; a Summary of all important intelligence in this city and elsewhere; a Synopsis of the proceedings of Congress and State Legislature when in session; the Foreign news received by every steamer. Exclusive Reports of the Proceedings of the Farmer's Club of the American Institute; Talks about Fruit, and other Horticultural and Agricultural information essential to country residents; Stock, Financial, Cattle, Dry Goods and General Market Reports, making it both for variety and completeness, altogether the most valuable, interesting and instructive Weekly Newspaper in the world.

The Full Reports of the American Institute Farmer's Club, and the various Agricultural Reports, in each number, are richly worth a year's subscription.
